About Keys

Keys Living Choices is a housing service operating independently under Pathways Health.

Often if you've experienced mental illness you may have lived in, or received support from, clinical or community-based mental health services, like those offered by Pathways. Keys provides both a step from residential-based support into affordable, quality and independent living and practical support around managing a tenancy.

Essentially there are three aspects to Keys:

- As a landlord - managing houses and tenancies on behalf of Housing New Zealand.
- As a housing facilitator - helping people who have a diagnosed mental illness to find and keep a home of their choosing.
- Providing practical support – such as accessing entitlements, getting the house set up and budgeting.

The service is currently available in Wellington, Wanganui, New Plymouth, Hamilton and Auckland.

Everyday staff at Keys hear inspirational stories about people who have found a home and kept it, people who have met the challenge of change and unlocked their future.
